

Joint DBIA-ASA Event: THE ROLE OF TRADE CONTRACTORS IN DESIGN-BUILD PROJECTS

How do we unlock the true potential of specialty trades on a design build project to benefit the Owner? The panel will discuss an owner's expectations from a trade contractor on a design build project, and compare/contrast those expectations versus a design-bid-build project. They will also discuss a general contractor's view of the roles that a trade contractor can play to create an excellent design build project. The differences in advantages of an in-house design versus a third party design will be discussed. Additionally, the group will attempt to define the skills that a trade partner should have and how an owner or GC can take advantage of those skills to maximize their value on a project. Lastly, the group will discuss the right time to bring on the design build trade contractors, and the benefits associated with that timing.
