This national movement has shed light on a new economics of "place" and led to a new currency of proximity. Today, Downtown San Diego is a diverse, vibrant community with roughly 35,000 residents, 80,000 employees who work downtown, 137,000 jobs connected to downtown businesses, and millions of year-round visitors. Downtown is a regional employment center, a public transportation hotspot, and the number one space for startups in the region. It's a growing urban core that ignites the economic engine of greater San Diego. Join us, to learn more about how Downtown San Diego is quickly becoming the innovation economy's next frontier.
